

Seton Hill University's MFA in Popular Fiction Program Presents

Gretchen McNeil

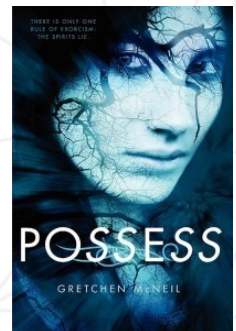

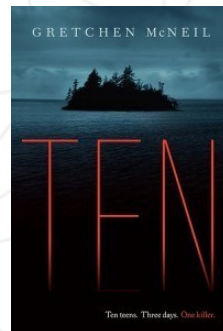

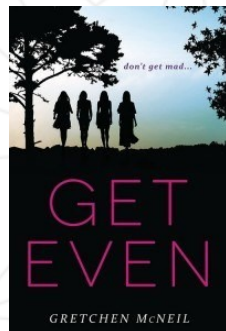

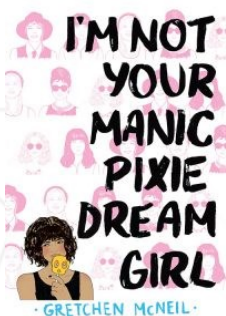

Tuesday, January 9 at 7:00PM

Seton Hill Performing Arts Center

Seton Hill University and the Westmoreland Library Network are pleased to sponsor a FREE talk, signing, and reception featuring the young adult writer, Gretchen McNeil. Gretchen is the author of several young adult horror/suspense novels, including Possess, 3:59, Relic, Get Even, Get Dirty, and the award-winning Ten. In 2016, Gretchen published her first YA comedy I'm Not Your Manic Pixie Dream Girl, and her next novel will be the horror-comedy #MurderTrending for Disney/Freeform. The film adaptation of Ten premiered on Lifetime in September.

This event is free and open to the public, but a ticket is required for entry. Reserve your ticket at <http://bit.do/gretchenmcneil> or by calling 724-552-2929.

Find these books and more at catalog.wlnonline.org

Presented in partnership with:

